Code of Conduct

http://www.meetup.com/DevOpsDC/pages/Code_of_Conduct/

We value the participation of each member of the community and want all attendees to have an enjoyable and fulfilling experience.

Accordingly, all attendees are expected to show respect and courtesy to other attendees throughout all Meetup events.

To make clear what is expected, all delegates/attendees, speakers, exhibitors, organizers, and volunteers at any DevOpsDC event are required to conform to our Code of Conduct. Organizers will enforce this code throughout events.

Follow @DevOpsDC

The image shows a screenshot of a Twitter profile page. At the top, there is a dark header with the handle '@DevOpsDC' and the name 'DevOpsDC'. Below this, the bio reads '@devopsdc'. The profile picture is a blue icon with white squares. Below the header, there are three statistics: 'TWEETS 292', 'FOLLOWING 104', and 'FOLLOWERS 205'. To the right of the 'FOLLOWERS' stat, there is a blue 'Follow' button with a white outline and a small user icon. An orange arrow points from the left towards this 'Follow' button. Below these stats, the word 'Tweets' is centered above a list of tweets. The first tweet is from 'DevOpsDC @devopsdc · 6s' and says: 'We've got a great meeting planned for tonight! See you there! meetup.com/DevOpsDC/event... #dctech #devops #cloudfoundry #addthis'. It includes links to a Meetup page and several hashtags. Below this tweet is a retweet from 'Peter Burkholder @pburkholder · Apr 2'. The retweet text is: '@devopsdc Who would be up for biking #pittsburgh -> #dc after @devopsdays on the Great Allegheny Passage + C&O canal atatrail.org?'. It also includes a link to a trail organization's website and hashtags. At the bottom of the tweet list, there are standard Twitter interaction buttons: Reply, Retweet, Favorite, and More.
